Collection of Personal Information and Protection of Privacy

Asia Pacific Menopause Federation (APMF) and its appointed Conference Organiser, Ace:Daytons Direct (International) Pte Ltd are committed to protecting the privacy of the personal information of their members, employees, volunteers and other stakeholders and to complying with legislation regarding protection of personal information. To meet our mandate and provide quality services, we gather and use personal information by consent and take responsibility for being transparent and accountable in how we deal with that information.

1. Personal information is any information that can be used to distinguish, identify or contact a specific individual, with the exception of information that is publicly available, such as names, addresses, telephone numbers and other electronic communications that are published in telephone or other directories. Business contact information, including where home contact information is used as business contact information, is not subject to protection as personal information.
2. We collect, use and disclose personal information only for the purposes that a reasonable person would consider appropriate in the circumstances. We routinely inform and offer our members the opportunity to not have the information used for purposes beyond which it has been collected for, such as enhancing your user experience, improving our products and services, conduct of research, data analysis and audit.
3. We may share your personal data with third party service providers providing services such as information processing, marketing research, storage and archival. We may also disclose your personal information to relevant government regulators, statutory boards, authorities or law enforcement agencies to comply with any laws.
4. Personal information gathered by APMF and Ace:Daytons Direct is kept in confidence and safeguards are in place to ensure that the information is not available or disclosed or shared more widely than is necessary to achieve the purpose for which consent has been received.
5. Information collected and stored electronically is appropriately protected through up-to-date and regularly reviewed procedures and software, including password protocols.

Withdrawal of Consent

- 1 From time to time, we may use the personal information you give us to contact you with details of our membership benefits, services and events that we think may be of interest to you.
- 2 If you wish to withdraw your consent to any use or disclosure of your Personal Data as set out in this Personal Data Protection Policy, you may contact us via email: secretariat@apmf2017.com
- 3 Please note that if you withdraw your consent to any or all use or disclosure of your Personal Data, depending on the nature of your request, we may no longer be in a position to continue to provide membership benefits and services to you.
- 4 Such a withdrawal may therefore result in the termination of any membership that you may have with us.
